

ITALIANS BREAK DOWN GORIZIA DEFENSES FROM ALL SIDES

counsel since the news of her husband's attack upon Mr. Morgan reached her. Upon receipt of Holt's letter she went to her father for advice and together they called on Mr. Cockrell.

From the fact that Mr. Cockrell communicated with Major Pullman, Chief of Police of Washington, it is assumed that the letter was mailed in Washington. In that case it must have been mailed last Friday night at about the time Holt was starting for New York to try to kill Mr. Morgan.

Immediately on receipt of Major Pullman's message Commissioner Woods communicated with the Cunard and American Lines and also with other steamship companies, and soon the wireless warnings were flashing across the Atlantic. Major Pullman also communicated with the Navy Department in Washington, and instructions were sent from the big wireless plant at Arlington to all vessels of war in the vicinity of the points where the Philadelphia and Saxonia are due to reach to-day to proceed to that spot at full speed.

The commanders of the Saxonia and Philadelphia were instructed to get in touch with each other and steer for each other without delay, so that in the event of disaster happening to one the other might be near at hand to render assistance.

PHILADELPHIA REPORTS SHE'S SAFE.

A reply sent from the Philadelphia by Capt. Mills was received by the American line shortly before 11 o'clock to-day reading: "Everything on board identified." This is taken by the American line officials to mean that the ship has been searched for explosives and nothing of a suspicious nature was found.

The apprehension of the police and the steamship authorities was heightened to-day by the discovery that at least fifty sticks of dynamite delivered to Holt at Bysonett, L. I., on June 29 are missing. They may have been found in another trunk, the whereabouts of which the detectives have a clue, but the hope of such a discovery is lessened by the fact that pretty nearly all that is left of what Holt bought for his making purpose is accounted for in the trunk found by the police in the West Thirty-ninth Street warehouse, except the approximately fifty sticks of dynamite.

Another feature that is worrying the police is how Holt could possibly have placed an infernal machine on board a ship. So far as the inquiry of the detectives has gone, he was in and around his bungalow at Central Park, L. I., which he was using as a beach factory, from June 29 to July 1. All his movements from the morning of July 1 to the moment of his attack on Mr. Morgan have been accounted for.

This fact, taken in connection with Holt's uncertainty as to which ship was the object of the attack is taken to indicate that there was another person interested with him in his crusade against the shipment of war munitions to Europe—perhaps several persons. In fact the authorities have held the impression all along that Holt was but a part of a conspiracy.

LOT OF EXPLOSIVES HE PURCHASED.

Holt left Ithaca on June 8. He had purchased there a bottle of muriatic acid at the Christiana Dudley Pharmacy in State Street. The next trace of him is picked up when he rented a bungalow from a man named Ott at Central Park, L. I.

On June 21 Holt ordered by telephone from the Aetna Explosives Company, No. 2 Reator Street, 200 sticks of dynamite, weighing half a pound each; 100 fulminating caps, 100 feet of fuse, 100 electric exploding caps and some other articles. He said his name was Otten and he wanted the stuff delivered to Central Park. He was told to send the money with the order and the next day the company received a money order for $19.50.

Part of the order was delivered at Central Park on July 24, but the dynamite was not delivered until July 29. If Holt put an infernal machine aboard a liner he must have accomplished the job between June 24 and July 2, and during that period all his time seems to be accounted for. However Ott says that on July 1 he saw Holt leaving the bungalow early in the morning carrying a suit case. No one else recalls seeing Holt leave Central Park on that day.

The police incline to the theory that Holt made a bomb and shipped it to an accomplice in New York. The records of all express companies in Central and Northern Long Island are being searched to-day.

Holt received 200 sticks of dynamite. He used three in the bomb which wrought destruction in Washington and three were found in his possession when he was arrested at the Morgan house in Glen Cove. There were 194 sticks in the truck found in the West Thirty-ninth Street warehouse last night. This accounts for 149 of the 200 sticks leaving a shortage of 46 sticks. Holt told Capt. Tunney that he used a few sticks in his experiments at Central Park. Capt. Tunney can find no evidence that more than 10 sticks of dynamite were exploded in the experiments. Therefore the shortage is about 50 sticks.

USED ONLY HIS OWN MONEY.
HOLT SAID.

The question of where Holt got the money for his wholesale terrorism campaign was in a measure cleared this afternoon by District Attorney Smith of Nassau County—the clearance depending, course, on whether Holt told him the truth. Said Mr. Smith:

"Holt told me that at the end of the month of June he had saved up from his salary and tutor's fees about $800. He gave his wife $600 of that to pay her expenses to Dallas and make the first payment on a home they intended to buy there. With the $200 remaining he came to New York.

"When he was arrested at Glen Cove he had about $50. He claimed that the $170 balance paid all his expenses and bought his explosives and revolver. He was a frugal liver and spent very little on himself.

"Dynamite costs from 10 to 25 cents a stick. The quality bought by Holt is of the highest class and costs 25 cents a stick. Therefore the 200 sticks he bought cost him $500. In addition he paid for other explosives. The police information that he obtained all his explosives for $19.50 was based on one payment he made for that amount. The payment was a balance due.

"All of Holt's known expenditures from June 8 to July 2, added to his living expenses, railroad fares and the rent of the bungalow at Central Park, amount to about $170. He told the District Attorney he had spent.

ATTACKS ON LAND, FROM SEA AND AIR, BY TURKISH FORCES

Most Important and Desperate Move Since May, Says Paris War Office.

SUFFER HEAVY LOSSES.

"Most of Our Assaults Never Left Battlefield," Says Official Report.

PARIS, July 7.—The French War Department this afternoon gave out the following statement of recent operations in the Dardanelles:

"In the Dardanelles, on the 5th of July, the Turks delivered a general attack, the most important they have undertaken since their efforts in the early days of May. Their purpose was to drive us into the sea.

"At 4 o'clock in the morning a very intense artillery fire was opened on our first lines, as well as on the zone behind these lines occupied by French and British troops. The enemy subsequently endeavored to deliver several infantry attacks, but not one was successful in coming as far as our trenches. Decimated by our artillery fire and mowed down by our rifles and our machine guns, most of our assailants never left the field of battle.

"During this action batteries of the enemy on the Asiatic Coast fired without interruption. A Turkish cruiser, steaming between Mardos and Chanak, also took part in the engagement. On several occasions aviators of the enemy bombarded our lines.

"At the end of the day a group of about fifteen British and French aviators flew over the Turkish aerodrome at Chanak, threw down several bombs and were successful in striking the principal hangar with a bomb.

BERLIN (via wireless to Bayville, L. I.), July 7.—The French armored cruiser Jeanne d'Arc has again bombarded the open Turkish town of Alandrette because the authorities refused to haul down the German flag over the German Consulate. It was officially announced to-day.

A despatch from Constantinople to the Overseas News Agency announcing the sinking of the French auxiliary cruiser Carthage off Cape Behr, on July 4. Sixty-six members of the crew were saved. Six others were missing.

1,400,000 TO JUNE 1

Of These, 400,000 Are Reported Killed, 700,000 Wounded and 300,000 Captured.

LONDON, July 7.—French casualties totalled 1,400,000 from the beginning of the war until June 1, 1915, according to an appeal issued to-day by the French Relief Society.

Of this number 400,000 were reported killed, 700,000 wounded and 300,000 taken prisoners.

FRENCH TRANSPORT SUNK IN DARDANELLES

Constantinople Informs Berlin German Submarine Performed Feat July 4th.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 6 (via Berlin by wireless to London, July 7).—An official statement issued to-day says:

"In the Dardanelles a German submarine on July 4 sank a large French transport steamer off Sudd-ul-Bahr. We repulsed the enemy on the night of July 3 attempts by the enemy to bring forward strong divisions against our right wing."

BELIEVES INFLUENCE BEHIND, HOLT DROVE HIM TO SUICIDE ACT.

(Special to The Evening World.)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 7.—Mayor Timothy W. Good thinks that some powerful influence must have been at work to bring about the suicide of Frank Holt—or Prof. Muentner, as he is believed to have been.

"I am convinced that Muentner was demoralized," said Mayor Good to-day. "I am also convinced that some powerful influence was behind the whole case, and that the influence did not want Holt identified as Muentner and would move heaven and earth to prevent this disclosure. Believe me, there is some one breathing easier to-day as the result of Muentner's timely taking off."

WAR NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest official statements from Vienna claim that the Austrian advance is continuing in at least one sector of the front south of Warsaw. Russians assert that the force of the Austro-German drive has slackened.

Divergent claims come from Vienna and Rome as to the situation on the Austro-Italian front. Italian headquarters reports heavy losses by the Austrians in counter attacks on the Carnic frontier, the repulse of attacks along the Tyrol-Trentino line and of a determined assault upon the Italian position on Avostano Peak.

The most recent Austrian official statement declares the Italians have been on the offensive and have been repulsed in attacks at several points.

Last night saw a continuance of heavy fighting along the western front. The French, in the official report from Paris, claim to have repulsed German attacks north of Alsas and on the heights of the Meuse.

Near St. Mihiel, at the point where the Germans have maintained their salient since the early months of the war, German troops were successful in penetrating the first line of French defenses along a front of 700 yards.

Official announcement was made in Vienna to-day that the subscriptions to the second Austro-Hungarian war loan amounted to $530,000,000.

GERMANS CAPTURE FRENCH TRENCHES NEAR ST. MIHIEL

Penetrate a Line 700 Yards Long, the Paris War Office Admits.

PARIS, July 7.—The French War Office this afternoon gave out the following report:

"In the region to the north of Arras the bombardment continued all last night. Two German attacks, neither one in force, against the railroad station at Souchez, were repulsed.

"On the heights of the Meuse, at about 9 o'clock at night, a fresh German attack directed against our positions on the southern side of the ravine of Sonvaux was checked by the fire from our barbed wire. At the same time the Germans delivered an attack to the west of this ravine, but here also they were repulsed.

"To the southeast of St. Mihiel the enemy, after a bombardment of great violence, took the offensive last night along a front stretching from the hill which commands the right bank of the River Meuse, to the south of Ailly, as far as the locality known as the Cow's Head (La Tête-a-Vache), in the forest of Apremont. At one single point in the Vaux Ferry region they were successful in penetrating our first line along a front of about seven hundred yards. At all other points they were repulsed with heavy losses.

"In the eastern part of the Le Pretre Forest we checked a fresh German attack, which was preceded by the throwing of flaming liquids."

WILL ARREST EVELYN THAW AND FORCE HER TO TESTIFY

Friday to appear to-day, which she did.

Mrs. Thaw was in New York yesterday, under the subpoena, but repeating her declaration that she would not testify against her husband.

Although he professed not to know where she was, Mr. Cook, Mrs. Thaw said later, had been in conference with her and Dr. Austin Flint, chief alienist for the State, and had personally escorted her from attendance on the court upon Dr. Livingston's certificate that she was bordering on nervous prostration and ought not to be compelled to take the witness stand.

DECLARES MR. COOK ACCEPTED HER EXCUSE.

Evelyn last night met reporters in her home, No. 23 West Eleventh Street, told of her alleged conference with the State's attorney and declared she had excused her. Then she took a night train back to Chateaugay Lake, although Justice Hendrick, the only person who could have excused her from obeying the subpoena, had not been consulted.

"Mrs. Thaw left New York without my consent," said Mr. Cook, "and sent a certificate from Dr. Bernard Livingston, her own physician, to me a few minutes before she departed last night. I still consider her the most important witness the State can call and I intend to fight to have her take the stand and tell her story."

"The statement of Evelyn Thaw that I had a conference with her, at which I agreed to release her from the subpoena on the ground of poor health is untrue. I did not see her during her twelve-hour stay in this city."

As soon as the medical certificate was in Mr. Cook's hands he issued a

PAID GIRL VICTIMS OF THAW $30,000.

Under cross-examination by Mr. Smith, Mrs. Merrill became "flirting mad." She declared she never had sent any one to Mr. Stanchfield to demand money to keep her out of the State, adding that she came only because the police compelled her to do so. She admitted she thought Thaw was "a nice man" but added that he had promised her money and cheated her out of it.

Mrs. Merrill declared she had paid 222 girls who had been Thaw's victims, and that the amounts she paid out reached between $30,000 and $40,000.

Mrs. Merrill became very angry under cross-examination, especially when asked about a suit she brought five years ago against Lazarus Levy, which she characterized as the suit of a "poor girl, alone in New York, against a fortune of $20,000,000." She was forced by the Court to answer a question whether she had been committed for perjury as a result of that suit and admitted she had been.

TAGGART WILL CHOOSE JUDGE TO TRY HIM

Through Counsel He Will Help in Selection—Change of Venue Granted Him.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 7.—Seven of the 122 men who are facing charges of election frauds in the registration, primary and election of 1914 pleaded guilty when arraigned in Criminal Court here to-day. One hundred and thirteen others, including Thomas Taggart, Democratic National Committee member; Joseph E. Bell, Mayor of Indianapolis; and Samuel Perrott, Chief of Police, asked for a change of venue from Judge James A. Collins, which was granted.

Within five days Judge Collins will present five names from which will choose a special judge. Collins was elected on the Democratic ticket in the election of 1914, and the leading Democratic politicians were indicted.

HALT MONTENEGRINS' TRAIN.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 7.—A train bearing a party of one hundred and forty-seven alleged Montenegrin recruits bound from Globe, Ariz. to Vancouver, B. C., stopped here to-day, and the agent in charge, A. E. Gurasovich, was taken to the office of United States Attorney Clarence L. Reames. Representatives of the attorney's office stated, however, that the men were not under arrest.

The Montenegrins came from the mining districts of Globe and Miami, Ariz.

KING OF ITALY SEES HIS TROOPS CAPTURE A HILL

Scales a Small Plateau Himself With an Escort of Cavalry.

COMPLIMENTS VICTORS.

Gorizia Attacked From All Sides—Gaps Made in the Defenses.

ROME, July 7.—Great gaps have been torn in the field defenses surrounding Gorizia by the incessant pounding of Italian shells. Official despatches to-day reported that the bombardment of the last four days has damaged the Austrian works at the Isosno bridgehead.

King Victor Emmanuel, close to the firing line on the Italian left, witnessed the capture of Crotis Peak, near Sels, by Bersaglieri, who took 700 prisoners. The King scaled a small plateau, accompanied by an escort of cavalry officers, and watched the struggle from a distance of only a few hundred yards. When the enemy was driven from the summit the King crossed to the ranks of his victorious troops and commended them.

A general attack on Gorizia from all sides was begun early yesterday. In the region of Plava Bersaglieri are assaulting the Austrian trenches with great fury, attempting to break through and attack the fortress from the north. Italian guns on the Plava heights dominate the country south of Gorizia and have dispersed several bodies of enemy reinforcements and ammunition trains. Bombardment of the Gorizia bridgehead is the heaviest artillery action since the Isosno since the war began.

"The Austrians continue to distribute circulars along the battle front by means of balloons," Gen. Cadorna reported to-day. "The last circular exalts the Austro-German victory at Przemyśl and calls upon the Austrian soldiers to oppose 'the unjust war waged by Italy.'"

LINER ROTTERDAM HELD UP BY BRITISH

Downs; Greek Steamship Also Searched.

The Holland-America Line steamship Rotterdam, from Rotterdam to New York, is due here early Sunday morning, according to a wireless to-day to representatives of the line. The Rotterdam was held at the Downs by the British authorities for ten days after she had sailed.

In addition to cargo there are 507 passengers on board. The steamer Athina, which arrived to-day from Greek ports, was taken into Gibraltar by a British patrol, her captain reported, and after an examination of her cargo list fifty bags of fennel seed and ten cases of opium which were originally shipped from Turkey were transferred ashore.
